“ As his younger sibling, Andy always told me he would be there for me if anyone ever treated me wrong. He was truly a loyal brother. He touched many lives with his charm and his desire to make people happy, anyone that met him remembered him and visa versa. I wish I had half the memory, half the tolerance, and a quarter of the musical talent he was gifted with. He was quite an amazing man.

“ Andy was the finest brother and friend a sibling could ask for. Even when faced with mind numbing illnesses he taught many of those, who could know him, the true meaning of love, endurance and positive thinking. With increasingly limited abilities he never stop trying. He never complained. He was so amazing in so many ways!
