“ Helen was a sweet lady. Sorry that I am out of town and cannot come to her visitation. I was glad to have known her. I often enjoyed her delicious pies. God bless!

“ So sorry for the loss of your loved one. Death is hard to cope with. May the family find comfort in their memories of her. One way God comforts those who mourn us through his Word, the Bible. Second Corinthians 1:3, 4.

“ I didid know Helen really as I live out of town. At the funeral meal for my brother, Mark Ryan, I saw this beautiful lady, with wide, bright eyes, sitting in the kitchen on a chair, as one of purely a supportive heart. I was like a magnet to this beautiful lady. I asked her questions. She was simply doing what she could with all her heart at the moment. Being there. That's what mattered. Amazing heart, amazing servant. I'll never forget Helen West, those bright eyes; and bright spirit. Thank you for your impact on me.
