“ Aunt Helen, you were a natural storyteller. At our family gatherings I would quietly sit & listen to you & Uncle Dave talk about family stories. I admired & loved your passion & interest in family history & heirlooms. Walking into your home as a young girl was the beginning of my own love for old homes, antiques & historic family connections. I never took the opportunity to tell you this & I'm sorry for that. But it's just one small outcome of your influence on this earth. You did good, Aunt Helen.

“ I am so sorry for the loss of another one of God's Saints here on earth. Myself and my cousins were so blessed to have such a God Loving family who shared his word and love with us for decades. Although I have not spent any time of late with Aunt Helen, her memory and caring spirit lives within me everyday. She will be missed here on earth, but Heaven is a lot busier place today with her, Aunt Doris and Grandma Blanton back together. There is a lot of hand talking going on once again.

Thank You for your life lessons Aunt Helen. RIP.
