“ She was tired and, oh so weary. Her steps just wouldn't go. She longed to see her Savior, family and loved ones so. God wrapped His arms around her. Said, "Martha, come on home!" Henry's a bit impatient, wondering what took so long. Now you're walking golden streets. You sit at Jesus feet. Family and friends oh, so dear, elated to have you near. Your best friend Pat, has waited too. She'll be so joyous to see you! Martha, neighbor, friend, Moms best friend. Will remember wonderful good times down ole 781 as we grew up, farmed, went to church together. Mom and Daddy thought their was no one like Martha and Henry. I must agree with them. Many thoughts and prayers to family. Gods speed
