“ Verna “Higgy” very much enjoyed visits with friends, and keeping up with what was happening with all of us. It was a lot of fun for all of us. One of our last memories was looking at dresses online, and seeing what was looking good. We always went to dinner, and spent our night laughing, telling stories and hanging out with family. She was always smiling and interested in all we had to share! We brought crabcakes for Chef Gerald to make for her because she liked those, and Esther Price chocolates. Our last new place for dinner was Patriot House, and she seemed to thoroughly enjoy that (as we all did)! What we will miss most is her Christian beliefs and demeanor, always demonstrated with a smile. We will carry your love and the memory of that beautiful smile in our hearts, forward as you would want us to do sharing it with others. Love you so much
